

Peake Perspective

Baltimore County Employees Federal Credit Union is now

Peake Federal Credit Union!

Thank you for being a valued member! It has been our pleasure to serve the employees and families of Baltimore County Government for the past 60 years. Our new name and brand signify our renewed commitment to providing smart financial products and services that bring Peake value to our members' lives. For answers to frequently asked questions about what to expect, visit www.peakefederal.com.

Celebrate National Financial Education Awareness Month!

Do you have good money habits? April is National Financial Education Awareness Month—a time to review and upgrade your financial smarts. Whether you're just starting or have been earning your way for quite some time, it's never too late to learn about saving and improving your financial outlook. At Peake Federal, we support all ages in their efforts to practice smart money management habits and develop a deep understanding of personal finance.

Our financial education pages at www.peakefederal.com contain articles and videos on a wide range of financial topics and tutorials on how to use our digital products and services to make your money management easy and stress-free.

Developing Good Habits Early

Developing good money habits early in life helps teach young people responsible money management as adults. Peake Federal offers a teen checking account to help your teens get started on solid financial footing. During Financial Education Awareness Month only, we'll even give them a $50 boost when opening a new teen checking account.

New teen checking accounts opened from April 1 – April 30, 2025 will receive a $50 bonus

*Membership eligibility required. Parent or guardian required as joint owner on teen accounts. Restrictions apply, contact the credit union for details.

Congratulations!

The following staff members are celebrating special anniversaries. We greatly appreciate their dedication to serving our members!
